THE MALE FIXER says A BOUT THE ONLY WAY to give a clear idea of the most correct style in clothes is to show you, for Style is mostly a matter of the way a garment looks on you—the hang of it, the way it is cut, the general lines.
T HE same style won't look well on many two men. There must be something different about the clothes—some individually, if you please.
I NDIVIDUALITY'S style book I have studied until the leaves are dog-eared. But I know it from cover to cover. It makes me feel good and it makes the fastidious dresser look good.
I F you don't know me, ask the best dressed man where he got
