citing "The Village Blacksmith." At the conclusion of her recital the rural audience cheered. "Answer!" they cried. "Answer!" they cried. "Answer!" Miss Carter was about to grant the request when a burly fellow very much out of breath tapped her on the shoulder. "I've just come round from in front." whispered the man excitedly. "I want you to do me a favor." "Well, what is it?" queried Miss Carter. "I happen to be the feller you've been talkin' about, and I want yer to put in a verse this time sayin' as how I lot out bicycles."—Argonaut.

MISNAMED.

A tourist, who recently returned from a trip through the Southern States, relates this conversation, which he overheard between a farmer's wife and a negro alleged to be looking for work:
"Be there any work around here, missus?" asked the applicant.
"Well, we do need a man," replied the woman. "Do you want work?"
"Yesum."
"Well, I'm looking for a man to do the odd jobs around the house, always be polite, willing to work and never be imprudent."
"Did you say you were looking for a hired man, missus?" asked the negro.
"Yes; why do you ask?"
"Well, it pears to me that a hired man isn't what you want. You want a husband."—Laughter.

NECAXA JUNKET IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Party Pleased with Hospitality Dispensed by General Manager.

PRESIDENT DELIGHTED

Mr. Madero Takes Trip over Falls on Aerial Tram.

Members of the party accompanying President Madero on his visit to the power plant of the Mexico Light and Power company when seen yesterday in their expressions of admiration for the immensity of the undertaking and of appreciation of the hospitality dispensed by the company through its general manager, Harro Harrsen, who accompanied the party.
The party was formed of about sixty persons, including the president, Ernesto Madero, minister of finance; Manuel Bonilla, minister of communications; Pedro Lascurain, minister of foreign relations, the British, Russian, Italian and German ministers and many other persons prominent in diplomatic and political circles.

A train conveying 200 soldiers preceded the presidential special train, which was followed by one containing a force of rurales. Every town along the line of route was gaily decorated and the inhabitants turned out en masse to greet the party.
The entire day on Sunday was spent inspecting the dams and power stations, the president personally showing the greatest interest in everything. The largest station is accessible either by tunnels or by steel cages slung on cables, the latter journey being made in two stages, the first drop being 750 feet and the second 320.

The president went out to the power house by the mid-air route later returning by the tunnels. He also inspected the reservoirs which contain 171,417,000 cubic meters of water and the two proposed dams which are being built with the object of adding about 70 per cent storage supply.

The Necaxa dam was also visited by the party. This dam is the second largest in the world being surpassed in size only by the Gatun dam at Panama. Its breast is two miles long.
The power houses on the property are four in number and are capable of producing 96,330 horse power.

The president expressed great pleasure in all that he saw, and warmly thanked Mr. Harrsen for the hospitality shown him. He said that he congratulated those in charge of the project which he considered as one of the marvels of the republic. He was also pointed out that the fact that no attempt had been made by rebels to destroy any part of the project showed that the revolutionaries were not directing their efforts against the property of foreigners.

LECTURE ON LAST CAMPAIGN OF CUSTER

Major Harry S. Bryan Will Speak at Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. lecture committee has secured Major Harry S. Bryan for the next number in its regular lecture course. Major Bryan will lecture Friday evening on "Custer's Last Campaign." Over fifty lantern slides will be used to illustrate the lecture. Many of the photographs which will be shown were taken only a few months after the death of Gen. Custer and many officers, as well as Indian chiefs, are included in them. The lecturer will speak from personal experience in the Indian campaigns and his personal acquaintance with the famous Indian fighters will give special interest to the lecture.
Tickets may be had, free of charge, upon application to the down town book stores or at the association. Both men and women are invited.

TERPSICHORE.

In far-off days, when the world was young, Fair maid, ere your praises rich were sung, Did you take your part from the bending grass That dips and lifts as the light winds pass?
Did you copy the grace of a swaying bough?
Did a pensive leaflet teach you how To dance and swing with the world atone?
Terpsichore, did you learn of June?
(Clara Odell Lyon, in June Lippincott's).

Phlander C. Knox, the secretary of state, received one day in his office a bunch of highbrowed Washington newspaper correspondents. In the number was William Hoster who stepped to the front with a copy of his paper in which was one of his dispatches under big, black headlines.
The dispatch dealt with the affairs of the Department of State and ran along glibly as if the writer had enjoyed the confidence of Mr. Knox regarding the whole matter. "What do you think of this article?" asked Hoster, exhibiting no modesty as he handed the paper to the Secretary of State. "After looking this over," said Mr. Knox graciously, "I must say, Mr.
Hoster, you are the nestor of Washington correspondents." At this Hoster looked on the aspect of a balloon and looked exceedingly pleased until Knox added softly: "Mare's nestor."

MONOPLANE FIGURES IN HIS WEDDING JOURNEY

GRAHAME-WHITE AND HIS BRIDE COPYRIGHT 1912 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

London.—Claude Grahame-White and his bride did not make their wedding trip by aeroplane, as they had planned, but they made part of the return trip through the air. They sailed together over the English channel from France on their return trip. Mr. Grahame-White literally flew to his wedding, and Tom Sopwith, Robert Loraine, Gustave Hamel and several other air men used their machines to go to the ceremony, which was performed at a little church in Walford, Essex. The bride was Miss Dorothy Taylor, daughter of Bertrand Leroy Taylor of New York. They met first on an ocean steamer. During their courtship they made frequent flights together.

PEACE AND AMITY WORK IS HIGHLY COMMENDED

An enthusiastic meeting of the International Committee of Peace and Amity was held last night at the law offices of Lic. Demetrio Salazar. It was decided to push the work commenced so auspiciously with the ve-lada on the night of the Fourth of July.
At the meeting last night a report was made by James Carson as chairman of the press committee, and the subject matter for an illustrated booklet was presented for the consideration of committee. This booklet will give the history of the work of the committee and will be illustrated. It is planned, as soon as the book is ready, to send a copy to every member of the United States Congress and to every member of the Mexican Congress, as well as to governors of the states of the United States and of the republic of Mexico.
As an evidence of how the work is being received, the following three letters will show.
"Correspondence of the Department of Foreign Relations.
Mexico, D. F., July 5, 1912.
"Mr. Heriberto Barron,
"6a. Calle de Claudio Bernard, 148, Mexico, D. F., Mexico.
"My dear Sir:
"We have just heard with great interest of the recent formation in Mexico of the International Committee of Peace and Friendship. It would give us pleasure to co-operate with the committee and to this end I am asking if we may have a list of the names and addresses of the members of this committee, or of any other persons in Mexico who are interested in the development of international good will. We should be glad to place their names on our complimentary mailing list to receive our monthly publications, some of which I send you under separate cover, and we take pleasure in placing your own name on that list.

esteem,

Hon. Heriberto Barron,

Mexico City, Mex.
"Dear Sir:
"I understand that you have been the moving spirit in the formation of an International Committee of Peace and Friendship in your city, which has for its objects the promotion of friendly relationships and a better understanding between the people of your country and those of the United States.
"As you may not be familiar with the objects and purposes of the International Club of San Antonio, I beg to enclose herewith copies of booklets issued from time to time by the club together with a copy of our constitution and laws, and in order, if not already informed, that you may become acquainted with the reason of our existence as an organization, would request that you read them.
"Desiring to thoroughly inform the board of directors of the International club concerning the organization of your estimable internaand Spanish and a special distribution made of some of the most striking paragraphs should be made in Mexico and the United States, so that the spirit of international harmony by which they are inspired might be spread abroad.

"From the text of these discourses, I believe that a committee formed by the members of the peace committee itself could select the most notable paragraphs in order to consummate a work so brilliantly begun. These paragraphs from the addresses, as well as the cablegram of President Taft, should become widely known in the two countries and I do not doubt that such a distribution would be fruitful of results.
